

Summer Classics makes changes in sales force

Casual Living Staff -- Casual Living, September 7, 2011 9:09:45 AM

Summer Classics has announced the addition of John Martin as its new independent sales representative for Ireland and the United Kingdom. The company also announced the transfer of Christian Given from its Midwest territory to its New England territory, which includes Northern New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Vermont.

Before Martin joined Summer Classics, he was a product assistant manager for a furniture company in Illinois. He has extensive experience in the retail arena having worked for stores in the Dublin, Ireland, area for the past five years. Martin lives in Balbriggan, Ireland, which is a suburb of Dublin.

Given has worked with Summer Classics for two years and has been its factory sales representative in the Midwest since last May. He relocated to his new territory in late August after the company's Garden Party.

http://www.casualiving.com/article/542800-Summer_Classics_makes_changes_in_sales_force.php