

JTT Outdoors to Sell Summer Classics Discontinued Items on Internet

MONTEVALLO, ALABAMA

Summer Classics announced today that JTT Outdoors will be the exclusive Internet provider of Summer Classics Discontinued Products.

The announcement of JTT Outdoors as the exclusive Summer Classics internet provider was made by Harold Hudson, vice-president of Sales and Marketing. The new website will only sell previous years' discontinued products, frame finishes and fabrics. No current in-line frames with current finishes will be sold on the site.

"For the past few years our discontinued inventory seemed to remain stagnant and our current dealer base was not interested in allocating their floor space to a discontinued frame and fabric," said Hudson.

JTT Outdoors is an independent Internet provider; Summer Classics has no ownership or management control of JTT Outdoors.

"JTT Outdoors came along at the right time because of our inventory situation," said Hudson. "Our current customer base will still have access to the same discontinued inventory that JTT Outdoors is offering on their website and JTT will not have an exclusive on this inventory. This means that our current customers can still buy this product if they wish."
